APPRECIATION

THE compilation of this volume could not have been accomplished without the co-operation of many. The reports in the daily press of Canada of the various activities and deliberations of the Convention were an invaluable source of information, indeed formed the basis of this review. To these various papers therefore sincere gratitude is tendered. Information, photographs and biographies were cheerfully and promptly forwarded by the delegates and their constructive criticism materially aided the work. Every precaution has been taken to avoid errors and omissions. The Compiler is profoundly grateful to all who rendered assistance.

PREFACE

THE National Liberal-Conservative Convention, held in Winnipeg on October 10th, 11th, and 12th, 1927, has passed into history as one of the memorable events in the political activities of Canada. This great gathering was followed by continuous and insistent requests that a comprehensive and illuminating review of the deliberations of that meeting be compiled and published for general distribution.

In due course, this important work was undertaken, having as its objective a review of the varied aspects of the momentous movement which culminated in the convention. That great political assembly exemplified the principle that the national leader of a great political Party should be chosen by the forces of the Party regularly represented in a National Convention. Democracy, long a ruling principle of the Liberal-Conservative Party, was never more fully represented, nor more evident, than at the various sessions of this important convention.

This review is illustrated with authoritative sketches and portraits of delegates. These, we believe, will afford the rank and file of the Liberal-Conservative Party a better acquaintance with the people who are responsible for the direction of the Party's activities.

Through steadfast fidelity to its principles, the Liberal-Conservative Party continues to be the hope of our great Dominion.

INTRODUCTION

TYPES AND PURPOSES OF CONVENTIONS

CONSTITUENCY

Conventions most frequently held are of the local or constituency type, and in our system of government these are a necessity when vacancies occur in the House of Commons or Legislative Assembly, and before general elections for either body. Delegates are chosen by various local centres to attend the nomination meeting where the Party candidate is chosen to contest the constituency. Often this is the only business at such a gathering, although endorsement of the Leader of the Party is usually recorded.

PROVINCIAL

(ONTARIO)

Great importance was attached to Provincial conventions held prior to and following Confederation. They enabled Party Leaders to obtain the opinion of their party forces on the great questions of the day. Thus the conventions of 1857, 1859, 1867, 1871, 1878, 1882, 1883, and 1884 dealt with matters of policy. Those of 1857, 1859, and 1867 were held by the Reform Party and their important and intensely interesting debates and resolutions pertained to the policies of the old Legislative Union of Upper and Lower Canada, while those of 1871 and 1883 were held by the Liberal Party,—the post-Confederation name for the old Reform Party. The Liberal Party again held Provincial conventions in 1904, 1919 and 1922, at all of which the delegates chose permanent Provincial Leaders, and pronounced on party policies. The conventions of 1878, 1882, and 1884 were held by the Liberal-Conservative Party, those of 1878 and 1884 dealing with Federal as well as Provincial policies.

The minutes of these great meetings record some of the most important passages of Canadian political history. The historic fiscal policy of the Liberal-Conservative party was presented and adopted at that of 1878, as a national policy. This convention is also memorable as the birthplace of the Liberal-Conservative Association of Ontario. Liberal-Conservatives held Provincial conventions in 1904 and 1920 which dealt with permanent party leadership and party policies. The delegates to the 1920 meeting instituted an innovation in party procedure when, after electing Hon. G. Howard Ferguson as Leader, they adopted the following resolution:—

"It is hereby resolved, that when the permanent Leadership of the Liberal-Conservative Party in Ontario becomes vacant, the Liberal-Conservative Association of Ontario shall, at earliest convenience, summon a Provincial Convention, representative of all the Party forces, to select the permanent Provincial Leader."

Provincial conventions to elect Party leaders have also been held, in recent years, in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

NATIONAL

National conventions, on the other hand, for manifest reasons, have not been held frequently. As pointed out, those of 1878 and 1884 dealt with Federal matters as well as Provincial, but they were not National conventions in the same sense as the National Liberal Conventions of 1893 and 1919, or the National Liberal-Conservative Convention of 1927. At the National Liberal Conventions of 1893 and 1919, the delegates elected permanent National Leaders and adopted platforms. The National Liberal-Conservative Convention of 1927 elected the permanent National Leader and declared policies.

THE NATIONAL LIBERAL-CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION OF 1927

The expediency of the holding of a National Liberal-Conservative Convention was discussed in 1910 and 1911, but the Liberal-Conservative victory in the General Elections of the latter year made further discussion at that time unnecessary. However, during the Great War the alignment of political ranks became broken, and it became necessary at the conclusion of the war for both the great political parties to consider re-organization.

The decease of the Liberal Leader, the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, P.C., G.C.M.G., K.C., LL.D., D.C.L., M.P., in 1919, compelled the Liberals to act, and they held a National Convention in that year.

In 1920, the forthcoming retirement of the war-time Prime Minister and Leader of the Liberal-Conservatives, the Right Hon. Sir Robert Borden, P.C., G.C.M.G., K.C., LL.D., D.C.L., M.P., coupled with the necessary reconstruction of the Government, suggested in the minds of Liberal-Conservatives the advisability of also holding a National Convention, and with the purpose of furthering this objective, a meeting was held in Toronto, May 10th, 1920, to discuss the question. Those who attended are shown on the opposite page. The delegates recommended the organizing of National Convention Committees in each province. Following the General Elections of 1921, Manitoba and Quebec carried out this recommendation.

CHANGE IN PARTY LEADERSHIP

In October, 1920, the Right Hon. Sir Robert Borden, G.C.M.G., M.P., resigned from the Premiership, and the Hon. Arthur Meighen, P.C., K.C., M.P., was summoned to form a government. Within a few months the Meighen Administration appealed to the country in the General Election of 1921.

ORGANIZATION OF COMMITTEES

In August, 1923, the Manitoba National Convention Committee met in Winnipeg and passed a resolution similar to one that had been adopted at a meeting held earlier by the Quebec National Convention Committee, i.e.: that a National Liberal-Conservative Convention should be held, and they directed Col. Arthur Sullivan, their Chairman, to communicate with the Liberal-Conservative Associations in the other provinces, in order to advance the movement. The Manitoba resolution came before the Annual Liberal-Conservative Convention of Ontario, held in Toronto, November 17th, 1923. At the latter convention, it was pointed out that, in the history of the Liberal-Conservative Party in Canada, there was no precedent to follow in the summoning of a National Convention. However, the Ontario delegates endorsed the proposal but at the same time directed their Executive to confer with the Provincial Associations in the other Provinces on the advisability of calling a National Conference to further deliberate on the subject.

THE NATIONAL CONFERENCE

In due course the Provincial Associations, having conferred, decided to meet in conference at Toronto, on November 17th, 1924. The Party Associations of the Provinces and principal cities sent delegates. The Leader, the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, P.C., K.C., M.P., and many of his supporters in the Senate and House of Commons, as well as Leaders and supporters from the Legislatures, were present. At this Conference the delegates resolved that a National Convention should be held and to support the movement, they established a national association,—The Liberal-Conservative Association of Canada,—and elected an executive for same. Three group photos of delegates to this Conference follow:

THE PARTY FORCES ACT

General Elections took place in 1925 and again in 1926. Following the latter, the National Executive deemed it advisable to communicate with the Provincial Executives to ascertain their views regarding the holding of a National Convention. Official opinion strongly favored a Convention, and as a result the National Executive was summoned to meet in Toronto, October 26th, 1926, to consider the question.

In the interim, the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen resigned the Leadership, and requested the Liberal-Conservative Senators, members-elect and defeated candidates to meet in Ottawa, October 11th, 1926. At this conference, it was moved by H. A. Stewart, K.C., M.P., seconded by the Hon. C. P. Beaubien, Senator, "that a convention of the Liberal-Conservative Party be held at the earliest possible date following the next session of Parliament, for the purpose of naming a permanent Leader, and for such other purposes as to the Convention may seem fit." The resolution was carried unanimously.

On motion of Hon. W. A. Black, M.P., seconded by Dr. R. K. Anderson, M.P., it was unanimously resolved, "that a committee consisting of Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P. (British Columbia); Hon. R. B. Bennett, M.P. (Alberta); Hon. Senator A. B. Gillis (Saskatchewan); Hon. Senator W. H. Sharpe (Manitoba); Mr. W. A. Boys, M.P. (Ontario); Hon. Senator C. P. Beaubien (Quebec); Hon. J. K. Fleming, M.P. (New Brunswick); Hon. W. A. Black, M.P. (Nova Scotia); and Hon. J. A. Macdonald, M.P. (Prince Edward Island) be appointed, whose duty shall be to name a committee that shall make arrangements for and fix the date and place for a National Convention of the Liberal-Conservative Party."

THE NATIONAL EXECUTIVE MEETS

The National Executive met, as authorized, in Toronto on October 26th, 1926. Mr. W. A. Boys, K.C., M.P., Ontario representative on the Convention Committee, which was chosen by the Ottawa Conference on October 11th, 1926, attended. The executive decided that the time had arrived to summon a National Convention, and discussed preparatory arrangements.

The meetings of October 11th and October 26th, above referred to, having clearly indicated that the Party forces were in accord as to the advisability of the holding of a National Convention, the temporary National Leader, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, K.C., M.P., summoned a meeting to be held in his office at Ottawa in November, 1926, to which meeting he invited the committee, named by the Parliamentary Conference October 11th, and John R. MacNicol, President of the National Association. At this meeting, it was decided to establish a National Convention Committee of thirty-eight members, on the basis of nine each from Ontario and Quebec, three each from Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and British Columbia, and two from Prince Edward Island. This number was subsequently increased.

NATIONAL CONVENTION COMMITTEE ORGANIZES

The National Convention Committee was completed December 10th, 1926, and thereafter met frequently and planned details. Hon. Hugh Guthrie, K.C., M.P., was appointed Chairman, and A. W. Merriam, Ottawa, Secretary. From time to time, alternate delegates, numbering twenty in all, attended the sessions of the committee.

SUB-COMMITTEES WERE APPOINTED AS FOLLOWS:

A. Organization and Finance—Chairman, Major-General A. D. McRae, M.P., Vancouver.

B. Publicity—Chairman, J. S. Douglas, Toronto.

C. Winnipeg—Chairman, J. A. Banfield, Winnipeg.

D. Transportation—Chairman, John R. MacNicol, Toronto.

The last meeting of the National Convention Committee in Eastern Canada was held in Ottawa, September 1st, 1927, and the final meetings were held in Winnipeg, October 7th and 8th, 1927, when the arrangements were completed for the opening of the Convention on the following Monday.

THE CONVENTION

WINNIPEG, MONDAY, OCTOBER 10th, 1927

MORNING SESSION

The spacious Amphitheatre Rink had been skilfully decorated with flags, bunting and various decorative effects, and transformed into a great expanse of light and beauty. With the twenty-five hundred enthusiastic and expectant delegates, boxes filled with interested guests and immense galleries crowded with visitors, the scene was one of intense activity and animation which broke into tremendous applause when, at 10 a.m., stirring notes of bagpipe and drum heralded the entrance of Hon. Hugh Guthrie, P.C., K.C., M.P., temporary Leader of the Liberal-Conservative Party and Chairman of the National Convention Committee. The greeting to Mr. Guthrie and the many distinguished men and women who accompanied him was a thunderous roar, ushering in the greatest political Convention Canada has ever witnessed.

THE RADIO

At this convention the Radio was used for the first time in Canada at political gatherings of this nature and the words of the speakers were broadcast by general "hook-up" to the remotest parts of the country, reaching an audience of hundreds of thousands of people.

CONVENTION OPENS

Three loud raps of the Chairman's gavel carried to all parts of the auditorium the message for silence. The convention was officially opened. The Chairman, who greeted his audience as one of the most representative gatherings of the Conservative Party or any other Party ever held in the Dominion of Canada, stated it had been summoned by resolution of Elected Members and defeated candidates following the general election of 1926.

With bowed heads the delegates stood while Hon. Mr. Guthrie repeated the Lord's Prayer in English, Senator Beaubien repeating in French. The delegates then sang "God Save the King" and "O Canada".

TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN

The election of temporary officers was the first item of business. On motion of John R. MacNicol, Toronto, seconded by Colonel John A. Currie, M.L.A., Toronto, Mr. N. K. Boyd, Winnipeg, President of the Liberal-Conservative Association of Manitoba, was elected temporary chairman. Accepting, Mr. Boyd paid tribute to all members of the Manitoba Executive and all others interested, for their splendid co-operation in the enormous task of organizing Manitoba's part in the Convention. Messrs. Charles V. Lindsay, Winnipeg, and Arthur Lalonde, Montreal, were elected joint temporary secretaries.

ADDRESSES OF WELCOME

Winnipeg citizens gave a warm welcome through their Mayor, Col. Ralph Webb, D.S.O., M.C., who voiced his belief that the Convention was a great event in Canadian Political History, exceeded only in importance by Confederation, fifty years earlier. "Winnipeg," Col. Webb said, "since the Dominion was formed, had expanded from a village of two hundred and fifty people to a metropolis of three hundred thousand. The City has a national outlook. A great land lies to the North and to the Westerners the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway and the development of the St. Lawrence route to the sea means much."

LIEUT. COL. F. G. TAYLOR, D.S.O., K.C., M.L.A., MANITOBA LEADER

LIEUT. COL. F. G. TAYLOR, D.S.O., M.L.A., Leader of the Conservative Party in Manitoba, expressed the opinion that no other body, political or otherwise, could assemble such a gathering as this, and the Party was upholding the foundation laid by the honored founders of the Dominion. The people of Manitoba were not welcoming the delegates to a barren province. Eighty thousand Conservatives in Manitoba greeted their brothers and sisters from other provinces. Thousands of them were listening in on the radio, as well as many Liberals, too.

HON. JOSEPH BERNIER, M.L.A., of St. Boniface, who was to have delivered an address of welcome, being unable to attend, JOSEPH HAMELIN, former M.L.A. for STE. ROSE, MANITOBA, delivered a welcome in French, and MRS. SANFORD EVANS of WINNIPEG, substituting for MRS. A. P. JEFFREY, who had been chosen to speak for the women but who was unable to attend as the result of an accident, most graciously extended the welcome of Manitoba women Conservatives to the visiting ladies.

REPLIES TO WELCOME

MR. CHARLES DUQUETTE, ex-Mayor of Montreal, speaking in French, said the Conservative delegates from Quebec, and other parts of the country, had come to Winnipeg as true, loyal subjects of the Empire, with the interests of the Dominion, as a whole, at heart. As Mr. Duquette closed his remarks, the Quebec delegation sang "Il a Gagne ses Epaulettes" and were vigorously applauded by the delegates from the other eight provinces.

HON. J. B. M. BAXTER, P.C., K.C., M.L.A., Premier of New Brunswick, declared his belief that the delegates already felt the spirit of progress that permeated the West, a spirit that was reflected in the council of the Party. If Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Charles Tupper, and other founders of Conservative ideals had not achieved what they did, there would have been no Winnipeg to welcome the delegates today. These men had faith in the future of Canada, just as the West had faith, and as the Conservative Party had faith, but the Party must not work and think on memories. It was our work to solve our problems all theirs were solved by the Leaders of yesterday. Canada had expanded on a foundation laid by the "Fathers of Confederation".

HON. L. P. NORMAND, Three Rivers, said that delegates came from Quebec, five hundred strong, to join with Conservatives of the other provinces. He spoke of the development which had followed the adoption of the National Policy of Sir John A. Macdonald. The Conservative Party had suffered shocks in Quebec, but it was now reorganizing and would unite with the West, Ontario and the Maritimes for the adoption of policies, looking to the security and prosperity of the country.

MRS. HENRY JOSEPH, Montreal, said that it was to the Liberal-Conservative Party that women of Canada owed the vote, and this was the first time in the history of the country that women had attended such a Convention.

CREDENTIAL COMMITTEE NAMED

At the conclusion of the replies to the addresses of welcome, the Convention proceeded with business. A Credential Committee was authorized, consisting of nine members from Ontario, nine from Quebec, and three from each of the other provinces, except Prince Edward Island, which should have one member.

The Credential Committee retired to carry out its duties, and the temporary Chairman invited Right Hon. Sir Robert Borden to speak.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN

THE RIGHT HONOURABLE SIR ROBERT BORDEN, P.C., G.C.M.G., K.C., D.C.L., upon being introduced by the Chairman, who was a member of the House of Commons when Sir Robert was chosen Leader of the then Conservative Opposition, said that in all his experience he had never seen anything so delightfully harmonious as the opening of the present convention. Referring to his period of Leadership, Sir Robert said he had accepted it for one year but remained Leader for twenty years and had the unique distinction of leading a political party in opposition, longer, he thought, than any other man in Canada. To the names of great Canadians, mentioned by a previous speaker, he would add that of Sir George Etienne Cartier, without whom Quebec would not have been brought into Confederation, and his memory should ever be honoured when we recalled the principles and the traditions of the party to which we owed allegiance.

"Sir John Macdonald's portrait crowns this convention and his honoured memory is engraved on "our hearts. We have on the platform his honored son, Sir Hugh John: long may he live. (Loud Applause.)

"We have in this country, as in all British dominions, democratic government, carried on by the "party system. It is easy to point out its defects, but until something better can be devised, Canada and "all other British countries must continue under this system. In the highest ideal of party government, "two parties unite in generous rivalry for the service of the State. The Conservative Party has governed "this country for more than half of the sixty years that have elapsed since Confederation. During that "time our party has maintained the principle that Canada should control her own destiny. Canada has "followed that leadership. The highest praise accorded to a statesman of old was that he should deserve "well of his country. The Conservative Party during those sixty years has deserved well of this country. "To that statement I add this thought: no party can live on its past record and traditions—not on these

"alone. They are splendid as inspiration and stimulus to higher efforts, but we must look ever to higher "usefulness and service. The mere attainment of power is not in itself success. There are now, there "will be in the glorious years to come, splendid opportunities for service to Canada. Let us have implicit "confidence in our country, our institutions and our destiny.

"Once the Leader is selected you should stand by him. Being human, he may not always be right, "but you are also human and sometimes when you think he is wrong, he may be right. Remember that "he is primarily responsible for policy. There are great principles, of course, to which the Liberal-Con-"servative Party has always been committed, but, as our country develops, new considerations arise and "a fresh outlook is necessary. The Leader, responsible to you and to the whole country, must not be "handicapped and embarrassed by ill-considered or premature announcements. Let the new Leader, "whoever he may be, trust the rank and file of our party. In my experience as Leader for twenty years "I found my highest inspiration in the unswerving loyalty of Liberal-Conservatives from end to end of "Canada. Without this I could not have persevered to the end. I am supremely confident that your "new Leader will equally find his truest inspiration in that splendid loyalty. To him this is my last word:

"Upon your brow sit laurel victory
"And smooth success be strewed before your feet."

(Prolonged Applause.)

ADJOURNMENT

MONDAY, OCTOBER 10th, 1927

AFTERNOON SESSION

RIGHT HON. ARTHUR MEIGHEN, P.C., K.C., D.C.L., LL.D.

Walking to the Rink.
Geo. W. Porter, Toronto, Ont. (left); and Thomas A. Murphy, M.L.A., Toronto, Ont.

Almost immediately after the afternoon session opened, the Right Honourable Arthur Meighen, P.C., K.C., entered the hall and was received with great enthusiasm. Ascending the platform and yielding to repeated cheers and the Chairman's invitation to speak, he launched into an eloquent address. To him, the spectacle from the platform was indeed magnificent. He was looking into the faces of many thousands of Canadians from every corner of this vast country, men and women who believed that the Liberal-Conservative Party was a party of principles and a great agency for good. When one addressed them, he could rightly assume that they adhered in sincerity to its faith, and were determined to forge and consolidate that Party into the mighty power it ought to be. Such an event as this was doubly gratifying to one who had been long associated with the Party's councils and had taken some part in their battles. No party Leader had received more devoted support or more generous treatment at the hands of his followers in the House of Commons. But the great Liberal-Conservative Party was, in this convention, being re-organized for fresh effort. Years of struggle lay behind it, as they lay behind our country, behind our Empire, behind the scarred and suffering world. Among such years, his lot of service and of Leadership and the task of his colleagues was cast. It was theirs to cope with the subtle and sinister forces of the post-war interval, amid which all men, all parties, all nations were staggering to their feet. It was probable, far more than probable, that errors might have marked his course, but now that he stood aside from public office and heavy responsibility, there was a conviction within him, which meant a great deal, that he could look in the face of the Liberal-Conservative Party, of the whole Canadian people, and all the world who cared to listen, and say there was no falsity or faltering, no act, no deed, no episode of his over which the pen of history need be ashamed, no period of place into which the keenest enquirer might not go.

The supreme consideration was not "who shall be the Leader of this Party?" The supreme consideration was "what manner of Party would he have to lead?" "The cords of memory unite us with the past," said Mr. Meighen in conclusion, "and this is the time, is the place, when all of us, and the millions we represent should catch the spirit and hear the voice of the noble founders of our political faith—those men whose children, to the second and third generation, adorn our gathering now. If those men could speak, they would call on us to keep ever in front the vision which inspired our fathers, and, in order that this Party may be strong to achieve that vision, that we be loyal to each other, and to those who serve for us. They would urge us to be conscious of our mighty heritage, proud of the Imperial fountain of our freedom and of the flag that floats above us, worthy of those ideals of British liberty and justice which have sent their light forth and their truth among all races of men."

THE HONOURABLE G. HOWARD FERGUSON, K.C., LL.D., M.L.A., PREMIER OF ONTARIO

Following Mr. Meighen, the Honourable G. Howard Ferguson, K.C., LL.D., M.L.A., Prime Minister of Ontario, being called upon by the Chairman, briefly addressed the Convention. He pledged his allegiance to the Party, with which he had always been associated and which he had been privileged to lead in the banner Province of Ontario. He trusted that as a result of the Convention the Party, with renewed strength and vigour, would discharge the great obligations that rested upon it by virtue not only of its traditions, but of its well known policies for the future development of Canada.

The preliminaries concluded with the appointment of various committees, thus ending the duties of the temporary Chairman, Mr. Boyd, who now asked the delegates to elect their permanent Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Secretaries.

PERMANENT OFFICERS

The Hon. E. N. Rhodes, M.L.A., Premier of Nova Scotia, former Speaker of the House of Commons, and Senator the Hon. C. P. Beaubien, of Montreal, were elected joint permanent Chairmen. Quebec and Nova Scotia having been honored, the Vice-Chairmen were chosen by the delegates from each of the other provinces as follows:—

Prince Edward Island—J. H. McDonald, M.L.A., Georgetown.

New Brunswick—Hon. C. D. Richards, M.L.A., Fredericton.

Ontario—John R. MacNicol, Toronto.

Manitoba—John T. Haig, M.L.A., Winnipeg.

Saskatchewan—Lieut. N. R. Craig, K.C., Moose Jaw.

Alberta—Hon. A. A. McGillivray, M.L.A., Calgary.

British Columbia—Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P., Vancouver.

Charles V. Lindsay, Winnipeg, and Maurice Dupré, Quebec, were elected permanent secretaries.

Dr. Hon. R. J. Manion, M.P., and Mrs. Manion, Fort William, Ont., at Royal Alexandra Hotel, Winnipeg.

Hon. Mr. Rhodes and Senator Beaubien thanked the delegates for the high honor conferred on them, the Senator speaking in French and English, emphasizing that from East to West they had come together, with one idea in mind, that of pledging their loyalty to the chief who would be best for the Dominion from ocean to ocean. He added that no Conservative, and more particularly, no Conservative of French origin could witness such an impressive gathering without recollecting with deep emotion that Manitoba was the political battlefield where, in the year 1896, the Party fought in defence of minority rights.

John T. Haig, M.L.A., Winnipeg, on behalf of the Credentials Committee, reported that all delegates and alternates were in good standing. The Chairmen submitted the agenda and rules of procedure and the various delegations from the nine Provinces then proceeded to elect their representatives for the various standing committees, the principal of which were Resolutions, Organization and Publicity.

It was 10.45 o'clock when the morning session was called to order by Premier Rhodes, Chairman. The Resolutions Committee, he announced, was working strenuously and with marked success, and although no definite report had as yet been received, it was likely that the resolutions would be in the hands of the delegates by noon.

The same applied to reports from the Organization and Publicity Committees. There being no business to report, speeches were the order of the day.

SPEECHES

WOMAN SPEAKER—MRS. HOWARD FALLIS

The second day's proceedings began with an address by Mrs. Howard Fallis, Peterborough, first Vice-President of the Liberal-Conservative Association of Ontario. Mrs. Fallis expressed appreciation that, having regard for the important part women now play in politics, the men had given them a high place on the agenda. Women were not apathetic to politics. Conservative women recognized that Canada was an inheritance with its comforts and advantages, and if they were to be worthy successors of their forebears, they must blaze new trails. She therefore asked that those at the Convention leave Winnipeg with a resolve to organize their women folk thoroughly.

Mr. Geo. Black, Dawson City, M.P. for the Yukon, with Mrs. Black, "snapped" on the way to the Convention Hall.

SIR THOMAS WHITE

The Right Hon. Sir Thomas White, P.C., K.C.M.G., stated that the principles and the policies for which the Conservative Party stood were essential to the welfare and well-being of Canada and were suitable to Canada at any and every stage of our national life.

The trade policy of the Party aimed to develop our great natural resources, including agriculture, upbuild the industries of the country, provide employment for workingmen, promote inter-provincial trade, retain our own population, encourage the best immigration and preserve and strengthen our association within the British Empire. Conservatives had always stood for unity and harmony among the different races in Canada. In short, the policy of the Party was the upbuilding of Canada for Canadians under the British flag.

SPOKE FOR YOUNG MEN

Wilfred G. Mason, a representative of the Macdonald-Cartier Club of the University of Toronto, believed in the principles of Conservatism and that we were on the verge of a great Conservative movement, which, if properly organized, would win the support of the young people of our country.

MRS. CHARLES FRÉMONT

In introducing Mrs. Charles Frémont, President of the Women's Conservative Association of the City and District of Quebec, Senator Beaubien, then presiding, said Mrs. Frémont's father, the late Sir Alexander Lacoste, K.B., C.P., LL.B., D.C.L., K.C., had been one of the pillars of the Conservative Party in Quebec, a great lawyer, a great statesman, and a great judge, and his daughter had inherited many of her father's eminent qualities. Mrs. Frémont stated it was a high honor to speak to both English and French speaking Conservatives on behalf of her province, whose Conservative French-Canadian ladies would work hard, hand in hand, with the women of the other provinces, for the better advancement of Canada.

David J. Walker, Macdonald-Cartier Club, Toronto, said when we realized that a quarter of the population of the country were in process of education, it was apparent there was a tremendous field among the youth, ready for the harvest, which must and would be garnered by the Conservative Party.

ERRICK F. WILLIS, Secretary of the Winnipeg Macdonald-Cartier Club, reminded his audience that there were great issues in the West, stating the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway was one that meant much to the people in the western provinces.

MR. GEORGE SPOTTON, M.P., introduced as the victor from North Huron, made a short vigorous address.

Four Veteran Conservatives were then introduced by Vice-Chairman, John R. MacNicol, then presiding, namely, Mr. Lewis Wigle, ex M.P., aged 83, of Leamington, Ontario, who had attended the Conventions of 1878 and 1884, Senator John McLean, aged 81, of Souris, Prince Edward Island, Capt. J. Gillis, aged 84, of Port Hood, N.S., and Dr. W. Fred Parks, of Amherstburg, Ontario.

AFTERNOON SESSION

SOCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL RESOLUTIONS

Resolutions dealing with Industrial and Social Legislation were explained by Senator Gideon Robertson, when the Convention resumed on the afternoon of the second day. One clause pledged the Party to support the production of goods in Canada, for the Canadian people, and to the fullest possible extent the conversion of our raw material to the finished product by Canadian workmen, thus providing continuity of employment in the Dominion. Another clause asked that the same aid be given to Canadian farmers and their sons who desire to settle on new land in Canada, as was offered to foreign settlers. When there were thousands of citizens of Canada per year emigrating to United States, many of whom were born on Canadian soil, it seemed only fair that the Government should make the same effort to aid them as it did to aid new settlers from foreign countries. It was only fit and proper that the Canadian Government should give its own citizens the same help that it gave to foreigners. A third paragraph asking for re-establishment and maintenance of returned soldiers and nursing sisters, had been inspired by the reports of widespread suffering among these highly deserving citizens of Canada. Questioned by Sir George Foster in connection with a resolution pertaining to the abolition of child labour, the Senator said, the resolution dealing with employment of children under sixteen years of age was to prevent the health of young persons being undermined by having to stand on their feet from nine to ten hours a day in stores and elsewhere. There was no idea of preventing boys picking fruit in vacation time, or otherwise engaging in reason in farm or other manual operations. Dr. W. D. Cowan, ex M.P., Regina, seconded, and the resolution passed unanimously, thereby endorsing what are known in the Versailles Treaty of Peace of 1919 as the Resolutions and Principles of Labor which are a fitting foundation upon which stability in industrial relations and progressive social legislation might securely rest.

MRS. HENRY JOSEPH, Montreal, and MRS. JESSIE KIRK, of Winnipeg, spoke briefly in support of the resolution.

PENSIONS FOR THE AGED

The necessity of state support for the needy aged was recorded in the following resolution, "Whereas all needy aged persons, wherever resident in Canada, qualified by residence, have equal right to old age pensions; and whereas, the present federal pension law is inadequate and unworkable; therefore be it resolved, that pensions legislation should be the subject of federal legislation only.

FUEL POLICY

Through a resolution moved by Hon. A. A. McGillivray, M.L.A., Calgary, the delegates declared in favor of the interchange of products between the different sections of the Dominion as essential to Canadians obtaining the highest degree of self dependence and prosperity, and requested that parliament instruct the railway commission to fix a rate on fuel as between the carriers on the one part, and the industry and the consumer on the other part, and to determine, in addition, a rate which would enable the coal industries to compete with imported coal, and further that the deficit, if any, be recognized as a national burden to be borne by the Dominion as a whole.

THE QUESTION OF TARIFFS

The ever important question of customs tariffs, after thorough discussion by a sub-committee under the chairmanship of The Right Hon. Sir Thomas White, was placed before the convention by Mr. Jas. A. Hagerman, of Unity, Saskatchewan, in the following resolution which was adopted. "This convention desires to record its feelings of pride in the growth, progress and prosperity of Canada, under the historic fiscal policy of the Liberal-Conservative Party. It affirms its adherence to the principles of that policy in its declared objects of the stimulating and development of the natural resources of the Dominion; preserving and enlarging the market for Canadian farm products; building up the industries of Canada, and thus creating employment of our workmen; promoting inter-provincial trade, and generally providing a diversified economic life which will be effectual in retaining Canada's sons and daughters within our own boundaries. This convention affirms the principle that, from time to time, as changing conditions require, the customs tariff should be revised and its rates readjusted and brought into conformity with such conditions. In such revisions, regard should be had not only to the objects of fiscal policy herein enumerated, but to the welfare of the consumer, and it is desirable in the national interest that in such revisions the cost of living and the cost of implements used in production of whatever nature should be given special and attentive study, with a view to the reduction of such costs to the extent practicable. This convention affirms the policy first introduced by the Liberal-Conservative Government in 1912, that with a view of having tariff rates permanent, a tariff commission should be appointed, representative of the three great classes of Canadian industry—agriculture, labor, manufacturing—entrusted with the duty of studying tariff problems and making such recommendations to the government as it deems in the public interest, with reasons therefor. Should it find that unfair advantage is being taken of tariff duties, it shall make recommendations, to be given effect to by the government, for reducing or removing tariff schedules or imposing special duties of excise upon products in respect of which such advantage has been taken, and its reports, findings and reasons therefor shall be laid before parliament and made known to the public. And this convention expresses the view that while strong effort should be directed towards the establishment of a system of preferential tariffs throughout the Empire, no preference should be given at the expense of the Canadian farmer or workman, and all such preference should be conditional upon the use of Canadian ports.

EXPLAINS CLAUSES

Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P., Vancouver, said the resolution had been prepared from fifty separate resolutions by the Committee on Resolutions, all sections of the country had been represented, including agriculture, labor and industry. He appealed for concurrence in the resolution as one means of finding employment for young men and women, who now emigrated to the south.

MR. JOSEPH HARRIS, M.P. for Toronto-Scarboro, said it was not enough to support the old policy of the Party; they must go further, and look to the young people of the country and their interests. He urged greater production as a means of providing employment for the young people, who were being raised and educated here.

MR. J. B. ROY, Matane, Quebec, described the resolution as one of the most important of the convention, and Quebec gave it hearty support.

MR. T. L. CHURCH, M.P., Toronto, said he believed a proper application of the doctrine of protection would solve all the economic ills of Canada. It must be protection that would protect.

MR. J. N. PONTON, Montreal, speaking on behalf of Quebec, assured the Convention that if the resolution were adopted, it would meet with the approval of the whole of the province.

COL. H. A. MULLINS, former M.P. for Marquette, made a plea for the western farmer.

IMMIGRATION POLICY

Immigration proved an interesting topic, and was discussed by Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, M.L.A., Saint John; John T. Haig, M.L.A., Winnipeg; Sir George Foster, Ottawa; A. G. MacKinnon, Regina; W. G. McQuarrie, M.P., New Westminster; Dewitt Foster, ex M.P., Halifax; and Dr. J.T. M. Anderson, M.L.A., Saskatoon (now Prime Minister of Saskatchewan). Dr. Anderson advised the convention that nothing should be done which would have the possible effect of disturbing settlement in the prairie provinces. He believed that there should be a high percentage of British immigration, and the Conservative Party stood for that. But, at the same time, they should express their appreciation of the manner in which many of the non-English speaking people, who had come to Saskatchewan and other provinces, had settled down as citizens of the country. He drew the attention of the convention to the progress of the Ukrainians in Canada. Their children had attended Canadian schools and had become, to a great degree, assimilated. The vast majority of the non-English speaking population were making good as Canadian citizens. He resented the charge made by their political opponents that the Conservative Party was opposed to non-English speaking citizens. The Liberal Party had carried on a vicious campaign of misrepresentation. Among the western delegates at this convention were several whose parents had been born in European countries. "I want to express my personal disapproval of the manner in which our political enemies have tried to make out that the Conservative Party is the enemy of the newer citizen coming in," said Dr. Anderson. "We entertain the kindliest feelings towards them."

Whereas the present Dominion Government's immigration and colonization policy has proved a failure, both as to its plan of admission, distribution and administration: therefore resolved that Canada adopt an aggressive system of immigration based upon the selective principle, and, with that end in view, efforts be directed to:

(1) Repatriation of Canadians.

(2) Securing a larger percentage of British settlers.

(3) Taking full advantage of the assistance tendered by the British Government to promote empire settlement.

(4) Making arrangements between the two governments to ensure proper training of the youth of the British Isles, as agriculturists, to better qualify them as Canadian settlers.

(5) That, in the selection and settlement of immigrants, a sane classification and distribution should be made, taking into consideration the immigrant's previous occupation and acceptability, and that, in such distribution, the needs of all provinces should be given fullest consideration.

(6) That in selecting new immigrants, relatives of present citizens of Canada should receive favorable consideration.

(7) That special concessions be granted to Canadians to enable them to settle our vacant lands.

(8) Oriental exclusion.

(9) We believe that the newcomer already settled in this country desires to take his place as a useful Canadian citizen. And we assert that our Party will do all in its power by extending all possible friendly assistance to enable him to attain that aim.

(10) Exclusion of such races as are not capable of ready assimilation.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 11th, 1927

EVENING SESSION

NOMINATING THE LEADER

Unbounded enthusiasm prevailed when the convention met in evening session, on October 11th, in anticipation of nominations for the Leadership. An estimated attendance of seven thousand people crowded all available space in the great auditorium, cheering and singing the minutes away, until John T. Haig, M.L.A., Winnipeg, rose to present the second report of the Credential Committee. This showed an attendance of 1,207 delegates and 514 alternates, making a total of 1,721. The total voting strength of the convention was 1,601.

Senator Gideon Robertson, Ottawa, was appointed Returning Officer, and Charles Drake, Winnipeg, Deputy Returning Officer. The joint Chairmen, Premier Rhodes and Senator Beaubien speaking in English and French respectively, announced that the meeting was open for the nomination of candidates for the Leadership of the Party. Nominations were made in writing. The Vice-Chairmen of the Convention were appointed to ascertain if candidates nominated were willing to accept nomination. Senator Robertson then explained the procedure by which the voting would be governed. Every delegate must personally call for his voting book at the Convention offices. Each constituency was entitled to five votes and delegates-at-large and ex-officio delegates to one vote each. Quebec delegates sang "Alouette" and then Chairman Rhodes called for nominations.

NOMINATIONS

The following six names were placed in nomination:

Hon. Robert Rogers, (Manitoba), proposed by W. J. Tupper, K.C., Winnipeg; seconded by Louis Cousineau, Hull, Quebec.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, K.C., M.P., (Ontario), proposed by Dr. J. T. M. Anderson, M.L.A., Saskatoon; seconded by C. W. Bell, K.C., M.P., Hamilton, Ontario.

Senator Hon. W. H. Sharpe, Winnipeg, Man. (left), and Col. H. A. Mullins, ex-M.P., Winnipeg, Man., at the Rink.

Mr. C. H. Cahan, K.C., M.P., (Quebec), proposed by Leslie G. Bell, M.P., Montreal; seconded by Hon. André Fauteux, Montreal, Quebec.

Sir Henry Drayton, K.C., M.P., (Ontario), proposed by Charles Duquette, ex-Mayor of Montreal; seconded by F. W. Turnbull, Regina, Saskatchewan.

Hon. R. B. Bennett, LL.D., K.C., M.P., (Alberta), proposed by Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, M.L.A., Saint John, N.B.; seconded by Hon. A. A. McGillivray, K.C., M.L.A., Calgary, Alberta.

Dr. Hon. R. J. Manion, M.P., (Ontario), proposed by Dr. J. M. Robb, M.L.A., Algoma, Ontario; seconded by Wilfred S. Haney, M.L.A., Sarnia, Ont.

DECLINED NOMINATION

Hon. Sir George Perley, M.P., Quebec; Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P., British Columbia; Col. John A. Currie, M.L.A., Ontario; Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, M.L.A., New Brunswick; Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Ontario; Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, M.L.A., Ontario; and Hon. E. N. Rhodes, M.L.A., Nova Scotia, were proposed but declined to allow their names to go before the Convention.

The candidates were allowed twenty minutes each in which to address the Convention, their proposers ten minutes, and seconders five minutes.

The names of the six nominees written on slips of paper, were placed in a hat, and one of the ladies on the platform drew them, and in the order drawn they made their addresses.

ADDRESSES BY CANDIDATES

HON. HUGH GUTHRIE

Hon. Mr. Guthrie, after referring briefly to his work in Parliament, as temporary Leader, and complimenting the Conservative Members for their support, expressed the hope that whatever the decision of the convention might be it would end in being unanimous. There never was a time when the Conservative Party needed men it could depend upon, as at the present. A strong Conservative Party as existed in past years was needed now. The Party had shown tremendous advancement since Confederation, but the members must not dwell in the achievements of the past. Problems would arise in the future which no Party in Canada would be as capable of coping with, as the Conservative group.

In front of Royal Alexandra Hotel, Winnipeg.

Hon. J. D. Chaplin, M.P., St. Catharines, Ont. — Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P., Vancouver, B.C.

MR. C. H. CAHAN

Mr. Cahan said that that morning a delegation composed of ladies and gentlemen from the Province of Quebec, both English and French speaking, as well as representatives of other provinces, had called upon him, asking that he accept nomination. He had no personal ambition, and was in the hands of the delegates. He trusted every delegate would be actuated by a spirit of co-operation. In discussing economic problems, Mr. Cahan said the primary object of legislation was to maintain the prosperity and well being of the country and to that end a tariff policy would secure to Canadians employment at wages adequate to comfortable living.

HON. ROBERT ROGERS

Hon. Mr. Rogers opened his address in the French language. This great convention, he felt, owed its existence to the desirability of a mobilization of Conservative forces from all parts of the Dominion, so that we could strengthen the Party and fully realize the value of that great traditional policy that had developed Canada. For the past eight or nine years, however, Canada had not been living up to that policy, with the result that our national development had been arrested. How could we hope for national development when Canada annually paid out approximately $160,000,000 to the United States for coal and oil; $100,000,000 for other products, and $340,000,000 for steel. Products represented by this $600,000,000 could all be purchased within the Dominion. Think how prosperous we would be, he said, if we kept this money in our own Dominion. No civilized nation had ever been endowed with the resources such as Canada possesses. If Conservatives did not rise to a full sense of this responsibility to the country, then Canada would be lost. But, he added, the Conservative Party will not fail.

SIR HENRY DRAYTON

Sir Henry Drayton said if we kept Canada for the Canadians and through employment kept Canadians at home, we should have one of the greatest countries in the world. Here we were in a country which everyone admitted had wonderful resources, where there was room for everybody and bread for all. Turning to the Quebec delegates, Sir Henry briefly addressed them in French for a few minutes.

HON. R. B. BENNETT

Hon. Mr. Bennett, after paying his compliments to the mover and seconder, said the history of Canada was the history of the Conservative Party in or out of power. Those who replaced the Conservative Party in power really followed Conservative policies, so that the history of this country was the history of the achievement of the policies of the Conservative Party in power or out of power.

HON. DR. R. J. MANION

Hon. Dr. Manion said he had asked no man or woman to support him. He wanted the convention to pick the man most suitable to lead this great Party to success at the next election, and to put into force the truly great principles of the Conservative Party. The chosen Leader would have his support. They were not there as French or English, but as Canadians all, believing that their duty was to build up Canada, keeping our Dominion first, and our own interests after. In conclusion, he asked delegates to vote for the man who would be the most suitable to lead the Conservative Party to victory.

HUDSON BAY RAILWAY

At the morning session of October 12th, seven important resolutions were adopted. The first, dealing with the Hudson Bay route, recommended the immediate completion of the railway to the bay.

PEACE RIVER OUTLET

Another motion favored the construction, as soon as reasonably possible, of a Pacific coast outlet from the Peace River district by the most advantageous route, at the same time affirming the Conservative policy of promoting, by every effective means, the passage through Canadian ports of the produce of Canada and imports for the consumption of its people.

ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAYS

Another resolution, after noting the new Welland Ship Canal was nearing completion, expressed the opinion that the St. Lawrence Canal System, as an all-Canadian project, should be developed in the national interest, and as and when conditions warrant. In such undertaking, the sovereign rights of the respective provinces in the development of power should be protected.

Senator J. S. McLennan, Sydney, N.S. (left), and Senator Frank B. Black, Sackville, N.B., at the Royal Alexandra Hotel.

NATURAL RESOURCES RESOLUTION

"That, in the opinion of this Convention, in the best interests of Confederation, and the economic development of Western Canada, the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta should be granted their natural resources free from restrictions within the legislative competence of parliament of Canada, with provisions for the maintenance and administration of school lands and school land endowment funds for educational purposes according to the laws of the respective provinces, but in compliance with the letter and spirit of the constitution, and that the claims of these provinces to compensation for loss for lands and resources alienated, and the claims of any other provinces in connection with this subject should be investigated with a view to satisfactory and equitable adjustment."

Speaking in support of the resolution on natural resources, Armand La Vergne, K.C., of Quebec, said they in Quebec were the best Conservatives of the whole Dominion in principle, tradition and education. They wanted the country to remain Conservative, believing that was the only salvation of Canada. They favored the return to the provinces of their natural resources. They also asked for continuance undisturbed of their bi-lingual civilization which had stood for centuries as the best safeguard against the introduction of American ideas, and the best assurance of the perpetuation of British ideals.

BACK ROW: Left to Right—W. H. Ireland, M.L.A. (West Hastings), Trenton, Ont. (Chief Conservative Whip); Loftus H. Reid, Toronto, Ont.; Jos. Gregory, Toronto, Ont.; E. C. Graves, M.L.A., (St. Catharines), St. Catharines, Ont.

HON. DR. J. W. EDWARDS, M.P., Kingston, said the resolution had practically the unanimous approval of the Committee. He was sure they were in accord with the sentiments Mr. La Vergne expressed.

REFORESTATION PLAN

Reforestation was dealt with in a resolution, declaring that:

Whereas, the natural resources of the Dominion, which are being too rapidly depleted, are an asset of paramount importance to the nation, a heritage to be used for the general benefit of the people and with due regard to the interests of succeeding generations; "Therefore the Liberal-Conservative Party declares itself strongly in favor of a policy of forest protection and reforestation and the extension of scientific research as to the best methods of protection, conserving and developing our vast resources in co-operation with the provinces, to the end that the maximum benefit will accrue to the people of the Dominion as a whole."

EX-SERVICE MEN

A resolution was enthusiastically adopted pledging the Party to enact such legislation as would give effect to the known desire of the Canadian people, to deal generously and as a matter of right with the claims of ex-service men.

In the matter of public employment and in the civil service, preference in that regard should be given to ex-service men and women, and the existing provisions of the law should be rigidly enforced. Appointments should not be made on the grounds of political expediency for ex-service men and women, but on the merit of the claims of those who gave their service to the country. In the matter of old age pensions, the minimum pension age should be reduced. Realizing that agriculture was the basic industry of the country, every effort should be made to encourage soldier settlers to remain on the land, and having regard to the difficulties they had met, amending legislation should be passed to alleviate their distress and revaluation of their holdings was imperative.

DUNCAN COMMISSION AND MARITIMES

The convention, by resolution, pledged the Liberal-Conservative Party, when returned to power, to the enactment of legislation as may be necessary to fully implement every recommendation made by the Duncan Commission appointed to investigate the grievances of the Maritime Provinces.

FREIGHT RATES

Resolution on freight rates: "A further resolution was unanimously adopted pledging the Party to maintain the then existing freight rates as a maximum on grain and grain products."

INTER-PROVINCIAL HIGHWAYS

The convention unanimously adopted a resolution favoring the principle of Federal aid for the construction of Inter-provincial Highways, reaffirmed the position of the party in that regard and pledged support to the construction of a Trans-Canada Highway.

IMPERIAL RELATIONS

The convention emphasized the fact that the Conservative Party cherished the traditions and history of the British family of nations and believed that co-operation among British Dominions and Great Britain would be beneficial to Canada, and for all parts of the Empire. The traditional adherence of the Liberal-Conservative Party to the principle of loyalty to the Crown and the maintenance of our position within the British Empire was re-affirmed. The convention emphasized the fact that the attainment of Canada's nationhood within the British Empire had been the result of the practical application, mainly by the Leader of the Conservative Party, of the principles laid down by the Party early in the history of our country. The Party had continuously stood for unity and equality of all Canadians, and for the spiritual, moral and material development of Canada. Delegates rejoiced in the powers and freedom of action which Canada, as a nation, had attained largely through the efforts and sacrifices of our soldiers, and pledged itself anew to the ideal of a United Canada within the Empire.

AGRICULTURE

Agriculture was recognized as the basic industry of Canada, and the convention pledged the Party to encourage the development of agriculture by promoting, by legislation and otherwise, a greater interest therein and thereby securing a greater degree of contentment and prosperity for the tillers of the soil. In particular, the Party believed that, by the scientific investigation of agricultural problems, this basic industry would be materially advanced.

MINING AND FISHERIES

The convention believed that for the proper development of the mining industry of Canada there should be the closest co-operation between federal and provincial governments, that there should be established a federal mineralogical department under the direction of a Minister of Mines, and that scientfiic research should be prosecuted to the utmost in the matter of our mining industry. The convention endorsed a policy of developing the fishing industry to its fullest capacity, and of taking measures to safeguard the lives of those employed therein.

PARTY ORGANIZATION

The plan presented by the Committee on Organization for the organization of the party covered polling sub-divisions, constituencies, provinces and the Dominion, received due discussion and was approved by the delegates. A further recommendation, strongly endorsing the formation of Macdonald-Cartier Clubs and other Liberal-Conservative associations of young men and women, was also unanimously endorsed by the Convention.

CONSERVATIVE POLICY

The Liberal-Conservative Party, whose founders brought about Confederation and cemented its provinces into an harmonious political whole, based upon common interest, common ideas, and mutual respect and effection of all its elements, again registered itself as everlastingly pledged to a policy which would at all times ensure prosperity, contentment and peace to all its citizens irrespective of locality, race or religion.

AFTERNOON SESSION

BALLOTING FOR THE LEADER

The afternoon session of October 12th was one of great interest and excitement, as voting on the six nominees for Leader had been scheduled for that Session. Senator Robertson, Returning Officer, again detailed the methods of voting and asked for the co-operation of the delegates in taking the vote.

SCRUTINEERS WERE NAMED AS FOLLOWS:

For, Hon. Robert Rogers—V. W. Schweitzer, R. K. Elliott, Malcolm MacLean.

For, Hon. C. H. Cahan—Louis Normand, Maurice Pelletier, Ed. Masson.

For, Hon. Hugh Guthrie—L. W. Johnston, M.P.; A. M. Edwards, M.P.; Grote Sterling, M.P.

For, Hon. R. B. Bennett—Bruce Smith, G. M. Blackstock, Chas. Adams.

For, Sir Henry Drayton—Col. T. Cantley, M.P.; General A. E. Ross, M.P.; Major Harry Price.

For, Hon. R. G. Manion—Dr. J. M. Robb, M.L.A.; Wilfred S. Haney, M.L.A.; Charles McTague.

The Chairman announced that on any given ballot, if any candidate received a majority, he will then be declared elected. Madame Charles Fremont, of Quebec, seated on the platform, had the honour of casting the first ballot.

THANKS FOR MAJOR-GENERAL McRAE

While the voting was in progress, a vote of thanks and three rousing cheers were given Major-General A. D. McRae, M.P., for his work in connection with the organizing of the convention. The General thanked the gathering for the warmth of their welcome and said the success of the convention had been due to the strength of the Conservative Party. He paid tribute to the newspapers of Canada, without regard to Party. They were largely responsible for the enthusiasm of the gathering. He appreciated greatly the support given him in his work. It augured well for the future that, in the hour of defeat, they could assemble such a gathering to plan for the future development of Canada.

THE FIRST BALLOT

Senator Robertson appeared on the platform and announced the result of the first ballot as follows:

Bennett	594
Guthrie	345
Cahan	310
Manion	170
Rogers	114
Drayton	31
	1,564

THE SECOND BALLOT

As no candidate had a majority over all, a second ballot was quickly taken. Senator Gideon Robertson announced the result as follows:

Bennett	780
Guthrie	320
Cahan	266
Manion	148
Rogers	37
Drayton	3
	1,554

Chairman Rhodes stated that Hon. R. B. Bennett, having, on the second ballot, obtained an absolute majority over all other contestants combined, it was his duty to declare Hon. Mr. Bennett the Leader of the Liberal-Conservative Party of the Dominion of Canada. When the loud and prolonged cheering had subsided, on motion of Hon. Hugh Guthrie, seconded by Mr. C. H. Cahan, K.C., Hon. Robert Rogers, Hon. R. J. Manion, and Sir Henry Drayton, the election of the Leader was made unanimous.

SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

When the great demonstration in his honour had subsided, the new Leader spoke in part as follows:—

"It is very difficult to find words with which to express my sentiments at this moment. I thank you for your more than generous support, which is wholly unmerited. I am impressed at this moment with a sense of my responsibility. Doubtless there are those amongst you, in fact I doubt if there are any who have not, at one time or other in their lives, attended a meeting, a gathering in a great religious edifice, and seen some man renounce many things assuming great responsibilities as he was consecrated for a life of service."

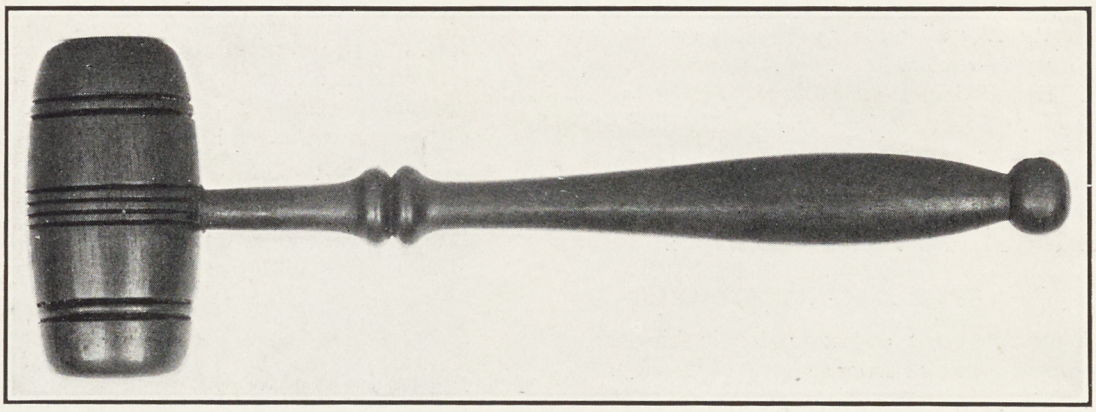
Hon. Sir George H. Perley, M.P., Ottawa, Ont. (right), and Lady Perley entering the Convention Hall.

Amid an impressive silence, Mr. Bennett declared that there pressed upon his mind the words of the Man of Galilee, "And whosoever of you will be the chiefest shall be servant of all." Continuing, he said: "Men and Women, you have honoured me beyond my desserts, beyond any desserts that I ever may possess. You have made me the chiefest amongst you; please God I shall be servant of all. It is no ordinary thing to have thrust upon you such responsibilities. No man alone can discharge them. They are overwhelming. In this new democracy I think we are too inconsiderate of our public men. We think the way of a politician is simple and ask of him almost the impossible. Even our criticisms are very often unwarranted, destructive and not helpful. But if democracy is to be a real vital force; if it is to represent the will of the people as it should, if it is not to be supplanted by the tyranny of autocracy, then men and women, each of you must assume leadership in his or her community to see that an educated and qualified democracy determines the destinies of Canada. If you are content to remain unorganized, to deprive democracy of leadership, to believe that our ends may be achieved without effort, then this great convention will have failed and our Party will not have fulfilled its mission. I realize that I must renounce the claims upon me of my profession and my business. These I must put behind me, for I realize that a man may not serve two masters. You have determined for me that henceforth so long as I have health and strength, I must dedicate my talents and my time, such qualities as I may possess, with the fortune that God has been good enough to give me, to the interests of my country through the great Party to which I am privileged to belong."



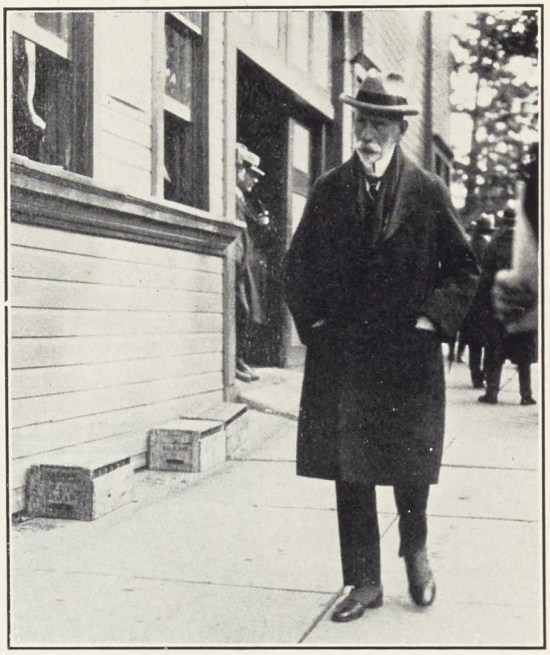
The Historic Gavel.

The gavel used by the Hon. Hugh Guthrie, M.P., to open the Convention was made from the stump of a black walnut tree that in 1866 stood at the intersection of Garrison and Ridge roads, Ridgeway, Ontario. It is recorded that it was from the shelter of this tree that the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto fired the shots that opened the Battle of Ridgeway in that year. The historic gavel was presented by James Edgeworth, of Teeterville, Norfolk County, Ontario, for the event.

Examples of Badges used. Colors were blue and gold.

Above illustrations are two-thirds actual size.

Mr. Bennett referred to the claim that he was a man of some wealth. He admitted that it was not untrue and said he looked upon his wealth as a solemn trust "to enable me to serve my country without fear or regard for the future so far as material things are concerned," and he said he thought himself "most fortunate that the good Lord had been good enough to permit me to be in that happy state....such as I have I consecrate with myself to the service I am undertaking."

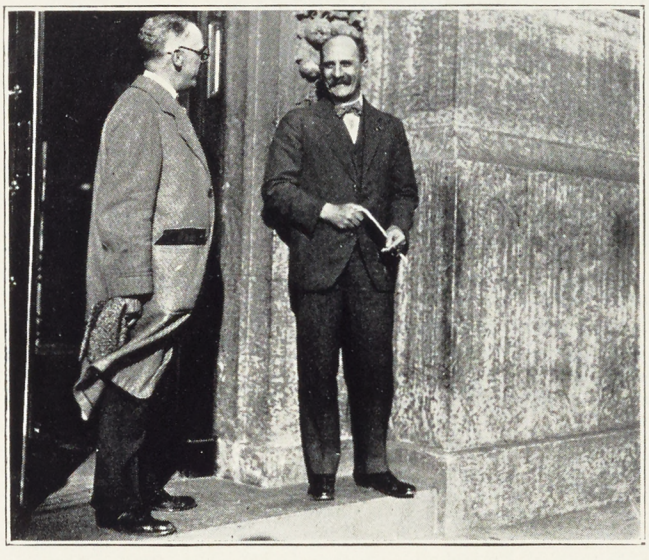


W. F. Cockshutt, ex-M.P., Brantford, Ont., walking to Convention.

"Now, ladies and gentlemen, let me urge you to think of one thing more. A Party is but an instrument to accomplish a purpose. All the parties in this country, Conservative, Liberal and Progressive, have one object in view, the preservation and maintenance of the health, happiness and prosperity of the Canadian people. Measures of social justice and of fiscal reform, measures that will make for the happiness of all the people that call themselves Canadians must be enacted. I believe, as you believe, and as we have good reason to believe, that in the Liberal-Conservative Party we have an instrument better capable of accomplishing these ends than any other instrument devised by the wit and wisdom of man. Such being the case, let us organize in every hamlet so that in every settlement there may be willing witnesses of our faith in the Party to which we belong. I can only ask, ladies and gentlemen, that with such faith you will be loyal to yourselves, thus being loyal to the Party, giving me that united support with unity of thought and action without which we cannot succeed.

"I accept at your hands the great trust you have placed with me and I shall endeavour to the best of my ability so to discharge the duties of my great position as to bring no discredit upon you or upon the great Party to which we belong and whose history and traditions we so highly revere.

"May I say a word to the young men and women. The Great War left fifty thousand of our Dead in France and Flanders and deprived Canada of a priceless asset, men and women who if they were with us would be the leaders of today in every branch of human endeavour. Great as is this convention, how much greater it would have been if they had been with us. They are not. What does that mean to you and me? It means that the old men must carry on a little longer, that the young men must accept responsibility a little earlier that we may span the gap. Young men and women, oh to be young in this land of opportunity, this land of destiny, this land where, if Conservative policies prevail, jobs will be provided for Canadians, not for workmen of other lands."



Senator Hon. C. P. Beaubien, Montreal, P.Q., on right, at Royal Alexandra Hotel.

After referring to the resources of the country, Mr. Bennett continued: "I hope I may be able in every part of this country, if I have health and strength, to meet the young men and women of Canada from Cape Breton to the Yukon. I hope to meet with them, talk with them, to see their faces filled with the enthusiasm of youth. These young men and women, sick, tired and weary of compromise with principle and sacrifice of convictions, demand that something shall be done that will make it possible for them to find here in Canada homes for themselves. We must stop the movement out of the country of its most priceless material, our men and women. We must find work for them in our country and the policy you have adopted today should make that possible.

"May I, in conclusion, ask you to promise here and now as you go out yonder door that you will be missionaries for a great cause, missionaries for the great Party to which we belong, missionaries from the greatest political convention ever held in the Dominion of Canada, and if you are such missionaries, your efforts will be crowned with success and you will ere long establish in Ottawa a Government reflecting your policies, your principles, your convictions, hopes and aspirations. Men and women, fellow Canadians, I thank you."

The applause following Mr. Bennett's speech lasted several minutes, and hundreds of delegates crowded forward to pledge fealty to and grasp the hand of the Leader.

EPILOGUE

ORIGIN OF "LIBERAL-CONSERVATIVE PARTY"

When one has read and reviewed the contents of this book, its importance might well focus the mind on the Party itself, its origin and progress. History records the fact that, previous to 1854, the two great political parties, either governing or the opposition, in the pre-Confederation Legislative Union of Upper and Lower Canada, were the Reform Party and the Conservative Party. In that year the Reform Party was in power, but having become hopelessly split over the Rebellion losses and Clergy Reserves questions, the Reform Premier, Sir Francis Hincks, requested dissolution, and appealed to the people. During the ensuing election, Hon. Robert Baldwin, one of the principal Upper Canada Reform Leaders, supported the ministry, but Hon. George Brown, Toronto, also an outstanding Upper Canada Reform leader, vigorously denounced Sir Francis Hincks, the Reform Premier, and his followers as "liberals". Sir Francis retaliated by calling the Brown Reforms "clear grits". The election over, the new House opened September 5th, but the breach in the Reform party having widened, Sir Francis resigned September 8th, and the Governor-General then called upon Sir Allan MacNab, leader of the Conservative Party, to form a government. Sir Allan's supporters were in a minority in the House. Therefore, on the advice of his chief supporter, Hon. John A. Macdonald, he entered into alliance with the Baldwin Reformers—"liberals"—of Upper Canada, and a number of leading French-Canadian "liberal" Reformers from Lower Canada, and formed the famous MacNab-Morin Government. This new political union, a combination of the best "liberal" sentiment and liberalized conservative thought, born out of patriotic necessity, was called the Liberal-Conservative Party. On November 25th, 1857, Hon. John A. Macdonald became its Leader and Prime Minister following the retirement of Sir Allan MacNab.

Beginning, therefore, with Sir John A. Macdonald, the permanent Leaders of the Liberal-Conservative Party since Confederation, 1867, have been as follows:

RT. HON. SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD, Leader and Premier, from November 6th, 1867, until 1874. Leader of Opposition, 1874 until 1878. Leader and Premier from 1878 until his decease in 1891.

HON. SIR JOHN J. C. ABBOTT, Leader and Premier from 1891 until retirement, 1892.

RT. HON. SIR JOHN S. D. THOMPSON, Leader and Premier from 1892 to his death in 1894.

HON. SIR MACKENZIE BOWELL, Leader and Premier from 1894 until his retirement end of April, 1896.

HON. SIR CHARLES TUPPER, Leader and Premier from May 1st, 1896, until July 8th, 1896. Leader of Opposition, 1896 to 1900.

RT. HON. SIR ROBERT L. BORDEN, Leader of Opposition from 1900 to 1911. Leader and Premier from 1911 until his retirement, 1920.

RT. HON. ARTHUR MEIGHEN, Leader and Premier from 1920 to 1921. Leader Opposition, 1921 to June 28th, 1926, and Premier from June 28th until September 25th, 1926. Retired from Leadership of Party October 11th, 1926.

(HON. HUGH GUTHRIE K.C., M.P., temporary Leader from October 11th, 1926 until October 12th, 1927.)

HON. R. B. BENNETT, Elected Leader October 12th, 1927.

★ A. E. Whitmore. Has had a typically Western career. With the other members of his family he came West to Moose Jaw in the early eighties, but returned East to complete his education at Upper Canada College. For some years he operated an extensive ranch in the Southern portion of Saskatchewan. During the Provincial Rights campaign at the solicitation of his neighbors and friends he entered the fight, contesting a seat in the Legislature against a provincial cabinet minister. He won the constituency for the Conservative Party, and was considered one of the most representative leaders. Owing to temporary ill health he was forced to refuse nomination for re-election. Since then he has repeatedly been solicited to seek both Federal and Provincial honors. He has been instrumental in aiding the establishment of many important enterprises in Regina, and the representative people of that city have on more than one occasion given public and grateful recognition of his services in this respect. During the last Provincial Election he did noble service to the Conservative cause. He is still in the prime of his days and the future for him is still bright with promises. He has been a fine sportsman all his life. An enthusiastic horseman, and was a notable polo player. Address: Regina, Sask.

★ Major George R. Whitmore: Belongs to one of the pioneer families of the United Empire Loyalists of the Niagara Peninsula. He came West with the other members of his family in 1883 and has accordingly grown up with the West. He has been engaged successfully in large business that is peculiarly associated with the development of the new country. He was an officer of the 68th Battalion during the War and proceeded overseas in advance of his unit. The Canadian authorities were quick to avail themselves of his executive ability and he was appointed joint representative of the departments of the Adjutant-General and the Quartermaster-General in connection with the embarkation of the Canadian soldiers and their dependents. He was seconded to the British War Office and attached to Lord Beaverbrook's staff. He early realized the advantages of air transportation and availed himself of it to an extent unusual at that time. He has been keenly interested in the development of the mineral wealth of Northern Saskatchewan and it is to a great extent due to his efforts in connection with the work of D. A. Hall, M.L.A., pioneer of Saskatchewan's Northern Hinterland, that capital has become interested in that portion of the country. Address: Regina, Sask.
